PRESS RELEASE

Moab's Unique Dining

Moab's diverse cuisine will please any palate, from regional southwestern fare to world-class gourmet restaurants with incredible views.

Canyonlands by Night's world renowned sound and light show is perhaps the most unique dining and entertainment package to found anywhere. After a delicious Cowboy-style Dutch Oven dinner, board a large theater style boat and head up the Colorado River with humorous guides who love sharing the wonders of their own backyard with others. Once darkness falls, the canyon walls come to life with 40,000 watts of illumination bringing along stories about the formation, creation and history of the area. Choreographed with light, sound, music and narration, you'll enjoy a relaxing evening on the mighty Colorado River.

Bar-M Chuckwagon offers an authentic, high-energy western dinner show full of folklore, humor and audience participation. A western town atmosphere, complete with gunfights, gift shop, and Saloon will transport you to the old west.

For the history buffs, there are two restaurants housed in historic buildings. The Sunset Grill perched 220 feet above the town of Moab, where well trained chefs prepare some of the finest food available, in the historic home of uranium king, Charles Steen. The casual atmosphere and patio dining provide a wonderful way to relax after seeing some of Utah's most unique sights.

The Desert Bistro, situated in the historical Old Ranch House located at Moab Springs Ranch, has 2 quaint dining rooms and outdoor patio to enjoy fine dining prepared by skilled chefs.

Moab has two river-side resorts which provide beautiful scenery with a delicious meal. The Sorrel River Grill, with its unparalleled service, setting, ambiance, and a cuisine, every bit as magnificent as the scenery that surrounds the Sorrel River Ranch resort. The Red Cliff Cowboy Grill's terraced dining room ensures every guest has a magnificent view of the Colorado River, the Fisher Towers, and the towering red rock cliffs surrounding the Lodge while enjoying traditional Western favorites. The Red Cliff's lodge also is home to the Movie Museum and the Castle Creek Winery.

Add to these fine dining establishments, restaurants featuring a smorgasbord of cuisines, including authentic Tia, Chinese, Mexican, and Italian, then toss in the fun of a Chuckwagon dinner or one of two breweries and you will find Moab has an unbelievable choice of culinary treats.
